³ Plate in Michigan.

⁴ University of Michigan owns two fragments; CBL owns one.

⁵ Single fragment of the four originally published by Hayes: this is the one in the upper right quadrant of the published plate 72. The two bottom fragments are at the University of Michigan. The fragments comprising folios 105.1 and 105.2 appear to have been reframed from when Kenyon’s Chester Beatty Biblical Papyri volumes were published. Also, his information regarding Column 1 and 2 for the fragments now labeled 105.1 and 105.2 are reversed. Kenyon had 105.1 text identified as “Column 2” on recto; and “Column 1” on verso.

⁶ Single fragment of the four originally published by Hayes: this is the one in the upper left quadrant of the published plate 72. Kenyon had 105.2 text identified as “Column 1” on recto; and “Column 2” on verso.
